Mail carriers collect

Food drive Saturday

Each day, letter carriers deliver millions of pieces of mail to area residents and businesses.

But next Saturday, May 13, they are hoping to be able to collect a few items as well.

The National Association of Letter Carriers, in conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service, the AFL-CIO and the United Way of America, will be collecting non-perishable food for local food banks during the normal mail delivery hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"We are asking that all food donations are left so they are visible to the letter carrier, or else leave a note on the mail box for the carrier to see," said Mike

Elliff, president of Branch #1132 NALC.

"The letter carriers will pick up the food while they are delivering the mail, or shortly thereafter," Elliff said.

Food donations may also be dropped in the front lobby or the back loading dock at the main post office, Elliff said.

Postal workers will then deliver the food to Protestant Welfare, Phoenix Crisis Center, the Madison County Baptist Association (Meals of Love program), the Salvation Army and Granite City Foursquare Church.

Last year, more than 31.5 million pounds of food were collected nationwide, Elliff said.

School director chosen

Madison board selects superintendent

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A Cahokia administrator with almost 14 years of experience in school finances has been picked to head the Madison School District.

The Madison school board approved hiring Gary Allison, 46, director of finance and operations for the Cahokia School District, by a 4-3 vote at a special meeting Monday evening. He will replace Ken Miller, who is stepping down June 30.

Six finalists had been interviewed the preceding week. That list had been narrowed to two strong contenders and one alternate by Thursday evening. Two of the top three were from the Madison School District.

Voting for Allison was Board President John Hamm and board members Sharon Cass, Dannie Sipes and John Greco. Voting against were James Newsome, Wilbur Owens and Don Turner.

Although the vote was along racial lines, Owens said race was not an issue.

"Any one of the three would have been just fine," he said.

Owens, Hamm and Miller all said the three voting against Allison wanted the new superintendent to come from within the school district.

Allison's hiring is contingent upon reaching a salary agreement.

Hamm said Monday evening that they should know if the terms are acceptable by Tuesday evening.

If an agreement is not reached, Miller said either of the other two finalists would be a "very viable candidate" for the job.

"If we don't reach a contractual agreement we'll call another special meeting," Allison said.

He cited Allison's experience in both finance and curriculum as the reason for choosing him.

Allison has been director of business and operations in Cahokia since November 1988, and served as business manager at East Alton-Wood River High School from September 1982 to October 1988.

Allison received his bachelor's degree in special education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1971. He went on to get a master's in business administration in 1980 and a doctorate in 1993.

He taught at St. Boniface School in Edwardsville from 1971-1977 and at Mamie Stookey School for the Developmentally Disabled in Belleville from 1977-78; served as business services coordinator for the Belleville Area Special Education District from 1978-80; and was a program monitor-supervisor with the Southern Illinois Regional Special Education Association.

Hamm said he believes Allison will be able to come in and keep the district headed in the right financial direction.

The district has been on the State Board of Education's financial watch list. However, a surplus has been predicted for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30. If the district can keep that surplus for the next few years, it could be taken off the list.

Waste site being cleaned up

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Street Superintendent Jerry Lakin is wasting no time in taking charge and making some changes.

Lakin, who took office Wednesday, has closed the city's yard waste drop off facility during evenings and on weekends to clean up the mess that has accumulated there.

"This is just a temporary measure until we can get that landfill cleaned up," Lakin said.

The facility, located near the city's holding pond between 22nd and 26th Streets just west of the railroad tracks, has become a three-block-long garbage dump. While the facility was supposed to take leaves and grass clippings only, it is now filled with mattresses, chairs, couches and other debris.

Police have arrested several individuals for illegally dumping garbage at the facility. But they cannot monitor the location full time, police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said.

"Our problem is there was no plan. The facility wasn't monitored. People just drove up and dumped everything in there," Lakin said.

He said the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has agreed to allow the city to clean up the facility "one time only."

3 injured in tavern shooting

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The mother of a 13-year-old girl killed almost one year ago by a stray bullet was herself wounded by a stray round during a bar shooting in Venice early Saturday morning.

Police said Marlin Harris, who has a prior conviction for unlawful possession of a stolen vehicle, was charged Monday with three counts of aggravated battery with a firearm and one count of possession of a firearm by a felon.

Three people were injured in the shooting, two seriously, which occurred at about 2:45 a.m. Saturday at the Robin's Nest Lounge, 113 Slough Road, authorities said.

Dorothy Weathers, 34, of the 800 block of Bissell, was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center with a gunshot wound to the right thigh.

Her daughter, Tyameeka Weathers, was shot May 12, 1994, while walking with her mother on Baucom Avenue. She was pronounced dead the next day.

Two other victims of Saturday's shooting, Christopher Gardner, 25, of the 1500 block of Second Street, and Michael Houls, 23, of the 200 block of Allen Street in Madison, were transferred to St. Louis University Hospital. Houls was listed in stable and satisfactory condition Monday with gunshot wounds to the left chest and shoulder; information on Gardner, who was shot in the abdomen and left arm, was unavailable.

Harris, 22, of the 500 block of Mercedia, Venice, was charged Monday afternoon by the Madison County State's Attorney's office. Harris, who turned himself in to police shortly after the

Emil Toffant dies at 80

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Madison County residents lost a good friend Tuesday morning in former Sheriff Emil Toffant.

Toffant, 80, of Madison, died Tuesday morning at Christian Hospital Northeast in St. Louis.

Toffant took over his first of two terms as Madison County Sheriff in 1978, four years after retiring from a 31-year career as a state police officer and district commander. He was awarded 41 commendations during his state police service.

Toffant helped set up a statewide detective bureau while with the state police and personally directed several major crime investigations. While in charge of State Police District 11, he helped thwart lawless gambling and vice in the Madison-St. Clair counties area.

He was so effective in cleaning up lawlessness that mob boss Frank "Buster" Workman referred to Toffant as "that honest policeman, Toffant" in testimony before a federal crime committee.

Toffant disclaimed politics and pledged to take the office of sheriff "out of politics."

Funeral arrangements are pending with Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave.

Church, state join forces for day

By Bob Slate

Rainy weather failed to dampen spirits at the National Day of Prayer, celebrated Thursday at Granite City Hall.

About 150 area residents attended the event despite cool temperatures and a steady drizzle. The gathering moved indoors because of the weather.

From the first floor rotunda of City Hall, pastors from several area churches shared messages of hope and patriotism. Those attending then prayed for the future of the country, with special emphasis on governmental leaders at the local, state and federal levels.

Venice vehicle stickers go on sale

Vehicle stickers for residents of Venice went on sale Monday at City Hall.

The cost is $3. After June 1, the cost will increase to $5.

Because of construction, residents should enter the rear of the building and go to the police department for their stickers.

Free lunch program set for summer again

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

People say there is no such thing as a free lunch, but the Granite City School District is participating in a free summer meal program for children. The program, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, provides free meals for all children 18 years old and under, and to those over 18 enrolled in a state approved educational program for the mentally or physically handicapped.

The U.S.D.A. reimburses the school district for the cost of the lunches, which are available to any student in the district.

Lunches will be available at Prather, Niedringhaus and Lake elementary schools from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Monday through Friday. The program runs from June 12 through July 28. However, no lunches will be served July 4.

This is the third year the

"The number of participants speaks for itself...When you see a seven-year-old inhale a lunch when it's 100 degrees outside, you know they need nourishment."

— Brad Eavenson

Granite City School District has participated in the program, according to Brad Eavenson, the district's director of food services.

In 1993, about 175 children participated. Last year, approximately 300 children were fed by the program.

This year, Eavenson said he expects more than 400 children to participate.

"We're going to be closer to Wilson Park because of Niedringhaus School and they're having a summer youth program," he said.

Most of the participants are elementary-aged school children,

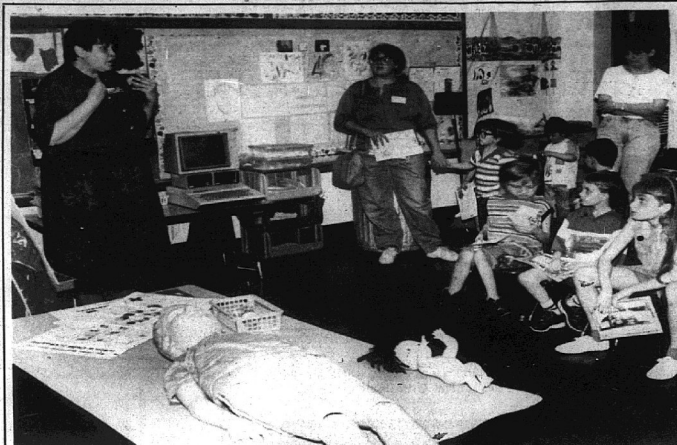

Eavenson said the meals will be comparable to normal school lunches.

However, because of the heat there will be more sandwiches and fruit.

Eavenson said the program will be especially important this summer because the U.S.D.A. recently announced it would stop distributing commodities.

"The number of participants speaks for itself," he said.

Panel approves parental notification on abortion plan

SPRINGFIELD — A House panel approved a bill Wednesday requiring that parents be notified of a minor planning an abortion, but the measure is not expected to survive on the House floor.

The House Executive Committee voted 7-3 to send the bill to the full House. The bill, which originated in the Senate, is more restrictive than a compromise bill that passed the House in early April.

Rep. Jay Hoffman, D-Collinsville, voted to send the bill to committee but said he might not support it on the floor.

The Senate bill is opposed by the Illinois State Medical Society, a major source of Republican campaign funds, because it allows civil penalties against doctors who disobey the law.

The medical society is not opposing the House version because any fines against disobedient doctors would be levied by a medical review board, not the courts.

The Senate bill requires that doctors notify a parent or legal guardian of a girl under age 18 at least 48 hours prior to an abortion.

Like the House bill, the Senate proposal includes a judicial bypass provision that allows a judge to cancel the notice requirement in cases where a girl fears abuse or the pregnancy is a result of incest.

The House compromise bill was hammered out between various groups advocating parental notice of abortions and the medical society.

Supporters of parental notification say they are concerned about the safety of minors who get abortions.

"Parents have unique knowledge about medical conditions of a minor that she might not be willing to tell a doctor," said Ralph Rivera, legislative director of Illinois Citizens for Life.

The American Civil Liberties Union has vowed to challenge any parental notification bill that becomes law.

"This is bad public policy," ACLU spokeswoman Mary Dixon said.

Variety of summer camps being offered

Camps of all kinds are offered during the summer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Most of the camps, ranging from art to athletics, and computer science to music and performing arts, still have openings, but anyone who is interested should register as soon as possible because space and class size are limited.

Campers are grouped according to age and experience, and recreation is included. All camps are coed day camps scheduled on campus, unless otherwise noted. Most of the camps will be held in June or July.

The Office of Conferences and Institutes may be called at 692-2600 for information concerning Sports Camps (baseball, softball, cross country, basketball, soccer, and speed and flexibility) and Science Camp (two-week sessions, June and July).

Other camps and the numbers to call for information include: Computer Camp, 692-2328; Art Workshops, 692-3183; Music Camps, 692-3990 or 2024; Nurse Camp, 692-3995; Writing Camps, 692-2600; Leadership Institute, 692-2600; and East St. Louis Center Performing Arts Workshops (dance, theater), 482-6988.

Written requests for information about any of the camps may be mailed to: SIUE Summer Camps, P.O. Box 1085, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1085.

Study finds SIUE parking rates low

Parking rates at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville continue to be among the lowest in the state, according to a recent survey by SIUE's Office of Administrative Services.

Parking decals for the 1995-96 academic year, which went on sale April 24, have been increased by $10, but even with the increase, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is the only other university in the state with rates as low as SIUE.

A proposal for increases is under consideration at the Carbondale campus.

Robert Vanzo, director of administrative services, said

SIUE's rates are based on campus needs rather than the rates at other campuses, but the survey was conducted to determine how SIUE's costs compare with other schools. It revealed that faculty and staff pay a range of $55 to $458 per year to park at Northern Illinois University. At University of Illinois at Chicago, the annual rate is $322, and at University of Illinois at Urbana, the rate is $203 per year.

SIUE's annual parking fees for faculty and staff range from $30 for single decals in the "blue" lots, to $60 for Lot A, Lot E and the Vadalabene Center, to $70 for multivehicle permits. The fee for a motorcycle is $35. For students, the rate is $20.

Annual rates for faculty and staff at other Illinois universities include: Chicago State, $50; Eastern, $35; Illinois State, $60; Northeastern, $84 to $168; and Sangamon State, $48. At SIUC, the rate is $20 per year for employees with incomes of $16,000 or less and $80 for those making over $16,000 annually. In St. Louis, annual rates for faculty and staff include: University of Missouri-St. Louis, $60 to $120; St. Louis University, $100 to $200; and Washington University, $250 to $430.

At SIUE, each employee has been mailed a registration form listing all vehicles currently registered.

My view

Nature is most cruel to the male scalp (and ego)

One of the problems with growing older is the constant barrage of nature's little insults against our bodies. Undoubtedly, nature's ultimate insult, at least to a man, occurs when nature begins to tell his hair it's time to go.

To most men, being short or fat is one thing, but being bald is something else entirely.

Of course, there are some men who will assure they don't mind being bald. These guys will lie about other things, too.

Men react to baldness in many ways. Typically, in Male Pattern Baldness (MPB), the hair on top thins first. This leads to a steady movement of the part down the head, allowing the hair on the side to be combed up over the offending region (see illustration A). Unfortunately, as MPB continues, the part may be down into the sideburns before the strategy is ultimately discarded as unworkable.

Don Miller

Then there is the back-forward approach. The man combs the hair at the rear of his head straight forward, even to the point of having bangs. This can be a pretty effective approach, but can be embarrassing on windy days. A very powerful hair spray is recommended.

If neither of the above strategies works, a desperate man may try layering. The three or four hairs that remain on top of the head are allowed to grow as long as possible, and then are combed back and forth in an attempt to make them look like separate hairs. This is usually a last-ditch attempt and is seldom satisfactory.

A new approach is the colored hair spray offered on late-night television. It temporarily dyes the scalp the same color as hair. It is designed to camouflage thinning hair and is most effective from distance, say 500 yards or more. Closer than that, it appears as if you have painted your head or are wearing a fuzzy football helmet.

Finally, there is the hairpiece.

A high-quality hairpiece, professionally installed, can be very effective. Most of the television newsmen wear hairpieces on camera, because the bright lights accent thinning hair. But a poor hairpiece can be, well, pretty poor.

I once worked with a man who had the worst hairpiece ever made. First, it was the wrong color. His sideburns were gray, but his hairpiece was light brown. Second, it looked like it was something cut off a small dog and fluffed up. But the most distracting thing about it was that it would slide around during the day. It's extraordinarily difficult to hold a serious conversation with a man whose hair is pointed in a different direction than he is.

My wife kids me that I count each remaining hair every morning. That's only because I do. When I come up short a few, it ruins my whole day. Nature is so cruel.

Officials address rural woes

Technology in the classroom and doctor's office may help solve long-standing problems on the farm and in small towns, people attending a regional rural conference have been told.

New U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman and U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin, D-Springfield, played host to the sixth national rural forum last month at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, drawing more than 600 people.

Panelist Cathy Emanuel, vice president for strategic planning and marketing at Carle Foundation Health Center in Urbana, told of the high accident risks farmers face, made worse by a lack of medical facilities in rural Illinois.

She said one-third of Illinois counties do not have adequate emergency medical personnel and only three states are in worse shape than Illinois with respect to medical care.

"This is a quiet crisis. It looks so serene, but it is so hard to detect," Emanuel said.

But technology may provide part of the answer.

In a staged re-enactment, Dr. Napoleon Knight, a colleague of Emanuel at the Carle Center, diagnosed a patient miles away via a live video link-up with a rural hospital in Kirby.

The "patient" had feared he was having a heart attack, but with the doctor directing a physician's assistant and viewing an EKG and X-ray on video, the doctor determined he had pneumonia instead.

Emanuel said such link-ups to specialists will greatly help rural residents obtain health care.

Emanuel was one of seven panelists who discussed the problems of economic development, education and health care in rural America.

The conference in Edwardsville was one of six leading up to a national conference Tuesday with President Bill Clinton in Ames, Iowa.

The forum was taped and was to be shown to Clinton Tuesday.

"These (forums) are a tremendous opportunity to get a perspective on rural economic and agricultural issues," said Glickman, who has been secretary of agriculture for less than a month. "We have to be sensitive, responsive and flexible."

Education also has a lot to gain from technology, said Ed Sol Rogers, superintendent of the Scott-Morgan School District in Bluffs.

The 320-student district has three computer labs with 62 computers and a closed-circuit television station. Students and adults may learn calculus, Japanese and just about any other subject from Western Illinois University, he said.

Rogers and others told Durbin and Glickman that it is vitally important for rural America to get "on line" on the information highway. The multitude of small telephone companies that either cannot link them or charge prohibitive fees remain a big obstacle, however.

To stir thinking on economic development, the officials heard Mayor Jim McCauley of Dodgeville, Wis., tell how his city of 3,200 provided utility lines to Lands' End, a mail order apparel business that relocated from Chicago. The city had purchased 37 acres of land and developed the basics of services a new business might need.

When Lands' End showed an interest, the city formed a partnership with the company, which started small with a store-front operation in 1978.

The company later built a plant and has grown to provide 3,100 full-time jobs with gross sales last year of $1 billion.

The city's population has grown to 4,200. McCauley said the company is busiest in the winter when farmers have less work to do on the farm. The part-time work allows them extra income, an incentive to stay on the farm.

Tooth-care visit — Dental hygienist Cindy Cochran, right, works with third-grader Amanda Garner during a recent educational trip to Pam Masching's third-grade class at Wilson School. Cochran's visits are sponsored by Dr. Kent Splaingard.

Nonviolence is individual, Gandhi says

ELSAH — Nonviolence begins with individuals, Arun Gandhi, grandson of India's spiritual leader Mohandas K. "Mahatma" Gandhi, says.

"You have to practice nonviolence individually to make it effective politically," Gandhi told Principia College students Friday.

Gandhi is the founder of the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence in Memphis. The institute explores the philosophies of nonviolence through workshops, seminars and community service.

His mission is to teach people what nonviolence is and how to apply it.

Gandhi is familiar with nonviolence being a political issue. In 1946, his parents sent him from South Africa to live with his grandfather in India. His parents hoped that "Mahatma" Gandhi would help their son control his rage and deal with the racial prejudice he had experienced in South Africa through nonviolent means.

While living with this grandfather during India's move toward independence, Gandhi said he learned the power of nonviolence.

"We have to learn to view violence in its broadest perspective," he said. "We view the physical violence and we ignore the passive. It's actually the passive violence the hate and the oppressive feelings — that cause us anger that translates into physical violence."

Gandhi is spreading his message in the United States. He chose Memphis over such larger cities as Los Angeles and Chicago to start the institute.

"Why not Memphis?" he said. "It's just as bad as any place. Memphis is where Dr. Martin Luther King (Jr.) was assassinated. It's very appropriate to start there. Memphis has a lot of problems with racism. It's very important we start where it all started from."

One of Gandhi's many projects is teaching gangs the theory of nonviolence and anger management. He has achieved success in South Africa through these methods. A gang of some 70 highly-armed Africans recently surrendered all their weapons as a result of his influence.

Besides being concerned with the gang problem in the United States, Gandhi also is pushing nonviolent parenting. In a recent workshop, he noted that half of the nearly 200 mothers in attendance were teen-agers.

"We're always looking at the global picture," he said. "We realize how big the problem is and we end up doing nothing about it. But if we look at ourselves and change we begin to solve the problem."

"As grandfather said, nonviolence isn't something he invented; it's as old as the hills. He just pulled it out of the scriptures, and gave it to the people."

How and when to properly Water the Lawn from the experts at

FRANK'S®

Ask ten people how often you should water your lawn and you'll probably get ten different answers. The odds are one of 'em will be correct, but how do you know who gave it? There are a lot of facts and fables on watering, and we're going to clear everything up.

Let's start with how often. Many people believe that the lawn should be given a light watering every day to keep it from burning up. Not true. A good, thorough soaking once a week is far better than daily watering. Turning on the sprinkler every day is a water-wasting habit, especially if it's done in the middle of the afternoon.

How much is a "good, thorough soaking"? About an inch. Set your sprinkler on and place a couple of coffee cans in its path. Turn the sprinkler on and measure the water level in the cans periodically. When the level reaches an inch, note how long the sprinkler was running. That's how long you should run it every time you water.

Now that the "how often" is out of the way, we'll get into the "when." That's what stirs up much debate. Watering's objective is to get an inch of water deep into the grass's roots as fast as possible, without evaporating away or lingering too long on the grass blades.

The above statement eliminates mid-afternoon and night watering. The hot sun in the middle of the afternoon evaporates the water away before it has any chance to do its thing. Watering at night allows the grass to stay wet too long, which can invite fungus and diseases.

With afternoon and nighttime scratched, the morning's about all that's left, but that's all you need. Morning's the time to water, without a doubt.

Ideally, about three o'clock in the morning is the best time, but most people won't get into the habit of getting out of bed to water the lawn. A programmable water timer works wonders here. Set it for the on and off times, and it'll do the rest. Always make sure, however, you know just where the water will end up. If an improperly-adjusted sprinkler sprays into action in the middle of the night, anything can happen!

Now, for those folks who don't own water timers or have in-ground sprinkler systems. The morning is the best time to water, late afternoon or early evening would rank next in line.

Another water-waster is the act of watering by hand, waving the hose around here and there. Unless you stand out there for an hour or so, you won't be putting enough water down anywhere to do much good.

What type of sprinkler is best? None, they're all good. It's a matter of personal taste and/or watering requirements. Pulsators are good for large, small or irregularly-shaped areas. Since they can be set to so many different patterns and cover wide areas, they don't have to be moved as often. But they tend to be a little noisy, especially when used near the house. Oscillating types are also adjustable and they're good for small or large rectangular areas. There is no one type of sprinkler ideal for everyone and every situation. Many people regularly use two or more different types, and you may need to as well.

Whether it's watering your lawn or flowers, washing the car or bathing the dog, wise water use is something we can all benefit from.

Bill aims at cutting real estate tax

SPRINGFIELD — Another attempt to reduce real estate taxes by raising the state income tax is before the full Senate.

The Senate Revenue Committee sent out a bill that would raise the income tax from 3 percent to 4 percent on individuals and the corporate tax from 4.5 percent to 6.4 percent.

Sponsor Sen. Aldo DeAngelis, R-Olympia Fields, said the bill would cut school district real estate taxes about 50 percent on average statewide.

The bill would also change the state school aid formula, however, to shift a greater share of funding away from Downstate schools into Chicago suburban districts.

The bill would increase state aid to schools and guarantee the state aid this year would not be reduced. But DeAngelis said he was proposing that about 20 percent of the estimated $2.1 billion raise from the increase be used for noneducation purposes, such as paying off some of the backlog of Medicaid bills.

DeAngelis conceded it will be difficult to pass the bill in the full Senate; Senate President James "Pete" Philip told him "he probably won't vote for it."

The proposal would result in the Chicago suburban schools' share of the state aid pot jumping from about 22 percent to about 33 percent, and Downstate districts' share falling from about 56 percent to about 42 percent. The Chicago district's share would rise slightly from about 22 percent to 25 percent.

Rep. Vince Persico, R-Glen Ellyn, a longtime teacher who recently visited the Southwestern School District in Macoupin County, said he supports the DeAngelis bill but that it is unlikely to pass the Senate and had no chance of passing the House this year.

Chicago suburbanites have long complained that much of the state income tax they pay is used to subsidize Downstate school districts.

Similar bills have been voted out of the Senate Revenue Committee in recent years, but they always fall far short of the votes needed to pass the full Senate.

The Democratic candidate for governor, Dawn Clark Latacz, advocated similar legislation, but did not address the issue of the school aid formula, in her campaign.

Gov. Jim Edgar has not reviewed the DeAngelis bill and has no comment on it, spokesman Eric Robinson said.

Edgar, however, has said he sees no need for tax increases or changes at this time.

Also Thursday, the Large Unit District Association, made up of superintendents from the state's 50 largest school districts, including Alton and Edwardsville, unveiled a new plan.

The plan would tie state funding more to meeting quality education goals and eliminate many of the categorical grants by blending them into the general state aid formula.

"We would like to get away from this negotiation (on school funding) by printout," said David VanWinkle, the former Alton superintendent who is now school chief in a Chicago suburban district.

VanWinkle, association president, was referring to the practice of legislators basing their votes on school aid bills on computer printouts from the State Board of Education that project how their local districts would lose or gain revenue.

The association endorsed the DeAngelis bill in committee "to keep the discussion going."

"We don't agree on every point," VanWinkle said.

DeAngelis said there weren't any printouts of the local district impact of his legislation.

shooting, is in custody.

Police said they also recovered the weapon used in the shooting, a 9mm semi-automatic handgun.

After Harris allegedly shot the victims, police received a 911 call from the bar. Numerous cars were leaving the bar's parking lot as the officer arrived.

The officer also noticed a car leaving with one of the victims in the back seat. At the scene, the officer found Gardner unconscious, but while he was trying to determine what happened, someone picked up Gardner and took him to the hospital.

Police are still investigating the incident and are unsure exactly what happened. However, police say they believe the shooting stems from a past incident between Harris and the two male victims.

Police said Weathers appeared to be an innocent bystander.

In her daughter's shooting, Lennil Johnson, 28, of Venice, was sentenced to eight years after pleading to involuntary manslaughter and possession of a weapon by a felon.

Police said Tryameeka was accidentally shot when Johnson and another man struggled and the gun accidentally discharged.

POSTAL NOTES

First class postage 32¢ — mules, boats and bush pilots included free.

The 32¢ first class stamp you stick on an envelope imposes an obligation on the U.S. Postal Service to get your letter from wherever you are to wherever it's going, whatever it takes. To fulfill this mission "to provide uniform service throughout the nation," occasionally it takes quite a lot.

Mules carry mail to the bottom of the Grand Canyon. Bush pilots deliver mail above the Arctic Circle or in the Alaskan wilderness. We use mailboats to deliver to ships on America's rivers, and along the bayous of Louisiana. And we do it six days a week, 580 million pieces of mail a day.

But, you say, if the USPS could do all that for 29¢ last year, why is it 32¢ this year? Because, unlike many other government services, the USPS is a self-supporting business, not funded by tax dollars. So when the price of gasoline goes up a penny a gallon, for instance, it costs us more than $1 million extra in operating costs. We don't have exact figures on mule food, but that probably costs more too.

On the other hand, through high-tech equipment and automation, the USPS continues to have the lowest-cost rates for first-class mail of any industrialized nation in the world.

And with the USPS you can count on getting the same service everywhere, from our biggest office (the one in Manhattan) to our smallest, the 61 square foot office at Ochopee, Florida.

We Deliver For You.

"The railroad was beginning to complain. They have to get in there and cut weeds, you know," Lakin said.

Lakin has assigned five trucks to the cleanup job. He estimates it will take four to five weeks to get rid of the garbage.

"So temporarily, until we can get it cleaned out, we are closing the road after 4 p.m. on weekdays and all weekend."

Residents may still drop off leaves and grass clippings — but no plastic bags — between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays, Lakin said.

"Ken (Miller's) plan is in place, and he's very familiar with Ken's plan and assures us that he will be able to pick that up," Hamm said.

Hamm also said he was impressed with Allison's work in developing a day-care program and alternative education program at Cahokia High.

Miller also said Allison's concern with academics is important. While most financial administrators become less interested in curriculum, Miller said Allison has shown a continued interest in it.

"His doctrine was largely in the area of curriculum, and I've been very impressed to hear him talk about his understanding of the way kids learn and his concern for the classroom," Miller said.

WOOD RIVER TOWNSHIP HOSPITAL COMMUNITY REPORT

President's report

Jerry Bolandis

WRTH Board rolls back taxes

The WRTH Board of Directors voted two weeks ago to reduce taxes for homeowners in Wood River Township by almost 14% and laid out a plan that will lower taxes by the same amount again in 1997.

That decision was possible because of the ongoing success of the five-year financial plan approved by the Board last summer. The fact that this plan is working ahead of schedule made this tax rollback possible.

Last summer, the Board issued bonds that allowed the Hospital to restructure its long-term debt as well as create a tort immunity fund that will help the Hospital to reduce its insurance costs.

The plan also freed up the Hospital to make important improvements in the health care services we provide. After last year's plan, we moved quickly to upgrade our patient care units and medical technology, including buying the newest and fastest CAT Scan in the Metro-East.

We also worked to create a partnership with St. Louis University that has allowed us to attract some of the Midwest's finest health care specialists to clinics at our Hospital. Our new cardiology clinic has opened to great success and we will soon open an orthopedics clinic and a primary care clinic.

Our ultimate goal is to continue to put the Hospital on a sound financial footing and to provide the people of this area the highest quality health care services available in the region.

Dr. Mary Mloux-Berry talks with Marian Faith as she prepares to return home from rehabilitation.

SSM Rehab helps patients return to healthy lifestyle

The final and crucial step in a patient's road to recovery from a serious injury or illness is choosing a rehabilitation facility to help him or her prepare to return to a healthy and active lifestyle.

More and more facilities are advertising that they provide rehabilitation services. How should a patient choose the best facility?

SSM Rehab, the largest provider of rehabilitation services in the St. Louis area, administers the rehabilitation center at Wood River Township Hospital.

Judy Crangle, the director of the facility, warns patients and their families to check out a facility carefully.

"Many nursing homes are advertising that they provide rehabilitation services, but there are big differences between what they provide and what we provide."

The average stay at SSM's Wood River facility is less than three weeks, far less than at nursing homes. The reason is that patients at SSM undergo an intensive program overseen by a physiatrist—a doctor trained in rehabilitation care. Patients receive more than three hours of intensive therapy a day, plus additional therapy from SSM's rehabilitation-trained nursing staff.

Also, unlike some other facilities, SSM can offer 24-hour physician coverage because it is hospital-based.

SSM offers a full-range of therapy, including occupational, speech and physical therapy, pet therapy, therapeutic recreation, and a community re-entry program. They also offer psychological and social services.

SSM's facility also is nearly finished with a major remodeling and reconstruction project. The entire fourth floor of the Hospital is being renovated to offer patients a state-of-the-art facility. Krangle said the main selling point of their Wood River facility is the family atmosphere. "We're a relatively small unit. We offer a more intimate, caring kind of atmosphere. Patients quickly become a part of our family here."

Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids wins state grant to offer dental care

The Illinois Department of Public Health has awarded the Healthy Moms, Healthy Kids program at Wood River Township Hospital a grant to offer dental care to grade school children in Madison County. Participating dentists will visit area grade schools next year to apply dental sealant to children's teeth to prevent cavities.

Jeannette Patterson, the director of Healthy Moms, Healthy Kids, said the $7,000 grant will pay for dental services and sealant.

In addition to the dental program, Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids provides prenatal care to pregnant women and immunizations for children from birth to three years old.

People interested in learning more about Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids should call 1-800-738-1737.

Food preserving classes planned

Do you enjoy canning and freezing fruits and vegetables? Would you like to learn about the latest home foods preservation (canning) techniques and equipment?

How about teaching others the old art of preserving food in the home using today's methods?

Carol Schlitt, nutrition and wellness educator, will be providing Level I Master Food Preserver instruction at the Madison County Extension Office, 900 Ellsboro in Edwardsville.

Level I instruction includes four units (food safety, freezing, water bath canning and pressure canning), each unit consisting of six hours of instruction for a total of 24 hours.

Dates of the course are May 30 and June 6, 13 and 20; each class will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The total cost of the course is $65. The course fee covers books and materials and lab expenses.

For more information about the Master Food Preserver program, call the Cooperative Extension Service office, 692-7700, and ask for a Master Food Preserver application.

Photographers to try their luck at zoo

By Jean Abernathy
Staff writer

Cindy Crawford, look out. It's not happening in Milan, Paris or New York. It's taking place at the St. Louis Zoo.

Animals at the zoo will model their favorite furs, skins and feathers for amateur photographers for the Saint Louis Zoo Friends Association 1995 Photo Contest. The contest is sponsored by the Suburban Journals and Schnucks Supermarkets.

There are two levels of competition in the juvenile range — one for budding photographers ages 10 and younger, and one for those ages 11 to 15.

Youngsters can photograph anything at the zoo for their entries.

Categories for those older than 15 include people at the zoo; zoo architecture; and animal categories of mammals; reptiles, amphibians, fish and invertebrates; birds; and black and white (any subject).

"Our hope at Schnucks is that the Zoo Friends photo contest will entice St. Louisans to take a closer look — and gain a keener appreciation of — one of our most important community resources," said Mark Blethroad, sales promotion manager for Schnucks Supermarkets.

"Most people, I think, underestimate the zoo's role as an educational institution," he said. "In many ways, the zoo functions as a large, open-air classroom, complete with courses in zoology, geography, animal behavior, earth sciences and more. Best of all, tuition is free and the classes are open to students of all ages, all races and all creeds."

Entry forms with complete contest rules are available at all Schnucks Supermarkets. Contest winners will be notified by Aug. 15 and honored at an awards presentation and reception on Aug. 22.

There will be two winners per category. A best-of-show award will be selected from the first-place winners. The first-place winner in each category will receive $50 in cash, a $50 Schnucks gift certificate and 10 rolls of film. The second-place winner in each category will receive $25 in cash, a $25 Schnucks gift certificate and five rolls of film. The best-of-show winner will win the first prize as well as an additional $50 Schnucks gift certificate and a trophy.

Two winners will be selected in each of the junior categories. First-place winners each will receive one Raging Rivers WaterPark season pass and five rolls of film. The second-place winners each will receive four one-day tickets to Raging Rivers and five rolls of film.

All photographs must be of zoo animals, structures or people at the zoo, and must have been taken at the Saint Louis Zoo in the past year.

Entries must be received at the Saint Louis Zoo Friends office between June 10 and July 31.

Belck gets faculty praise

A resolution acknowledging President Nancy Belck's "excellent leadership" and her performance in the challenging job of SIUE President, "has been approved by the Faculty Senate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville."

John Farley, professor in the department of sociology and social work and president of the senate, proposed the resolution to the senate's executive committee, which unanimously recommended it to the full senate. It is the first time in many years that such an action has been taken.

Warriors meet Belleville West.

Thursday

Art
VoellingerCameron last of ESL's big 3

For a time at East St. Louis Senior High School, they were considered the big three of coaching: Downing, Dehner and Cameron.

With the Feb. 25 death of Fred Cameron, each of the highly recognized coaches, including Wirt Downing and Louis "Pick" Dehner, have passed.

"FRED CALLED ME to coach with him when I was an assistant coach at Webster Groves," said former East Side football great Paul Browning, now retired from Belleville East. "I'll never forget him. Few can forget the coach who replaced Downing after the latter had built East Side into a state football power."

"He was very meticulous and exact," Browning said of Cameron.

From 1960 through '64, Browning served as a sophomore coach under Cameron, whose staff featured the likes of Bobby Joe Scates, Paul Fuchs and Keith Lawrence.

The first time this scribe spent much time with Cameron came in 1970, when his final game was an 8-0 Thanksgiving Day victory over the Maroons of Township High at Belleville Stadium.

MY IMPRESSION WAS his poise, not only under the pressure of the game but afterward when he met a press corps eager to write of his final moments during a career that included a string of 43 consecutive victories at East Side.

Like Browning, I was most aware of Cameron's class, but I was unaware until informed of the coach's death by East Side graduate John Logsdon that Cameron had achieved much recognition before and after 43 years of teaching and coaching.

Logsdon, also a retired East teacher, passed on the information from a Central Missouri State University alumni newspaper that focused on Cameron.

A 1928 graduate of Central Missouri State, Cameron died at the age of 89 in Warren, Mo. He moved there in 1973 after retiring in '71.

AN OUTSTANDING two-way tackle on Central's only undefeated football team in 1926, he also competed in track, basketball and baseball.

Cameron received the Distinguished Alumni Award in 1990 and CMSU Athletic Hall of Fame membership in 1994. He earned a bachelor's degree in education at Central in '28 and a master's at the University of Iowa in 1933.

In addition to his CMSU honors, Cameron was a member of the football and track coaches halls of fame in Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, as well as the St. Louis Metro Area and Vinton (Iowa) football halls of fame.

The Fred Cameron Relays have been held in his honor in East St. Louis since 1969.

HIS 206 FOOTBALL victories, including 126 in 16 years at East Side, resulted in a total of 18 all-state players, five National Football League draft choices and three NFL starters. He is survived by his wife Judy and sons Bruce, Ben and Bill.

"Fred was like Downing and Dehner," Logsdon said. "They did not forget you and were friendly when you came back."

EXTRA INNINGS: A recent mailing from the Illinois High School Association included a few numbers of note, including those that support the rise in girls athletics.

Since 1988, the number of schools entered the girls softball postseason series has risen from 539 to 599. Girls soccer has shown an increase from 98 to 190 during the same time period.

In boys sports, since '86, the total number of schools entered in the state track and field series has dropped from 645 to 577 with boys tennis showing a decline from 291 to 272.

(Art Voellinger is a baseball and soccer coach at O'Fallon High School. He writes a twice-weekly column for the Journal.)

Outlaws making return to Tri-City

The World of Outlaws SKOAL Outlaw Series rides into Tri-City Speedway on Saturday, May 13, and the existing track record is expected to crumble under the wheels of the Outlaws.

"We've got a fast new racing surface," Tri-City owner Bob Wente said. "With the new clay we've added over the off-season we're expecting someone to break into the 16-second barrier."

Steve Kinser, winner of 16 World of Outlaw "A" main events at Tri-City, will make a triumphant return to Tri-City on Saturday following a stint on the Winston Cup tour. The 14-time World Of Outlaws champion holds the current track record of 17.172 seconds on the flat, half-mile dirt oval.

Gates open at 4 p.m. Time trials begin at 7 p.m., and racing starts at 8 p.m. Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children age 12 and under.

Heavy rains washed away four Clark Oil Racing Series main events Saturday, but the rained-out events will be made up with double features for each class scheduled for May 20 and 27. Before the rains came, Kevin Whitworth and Tommy Mikels scored qualifying race victories in the SKOAL Racing Sprint Car division. John Seets and Tom Seets scored the Budweiser Grand American Modified qualifiers. The Red Dog Pro Stock qualifiers were won by Bub Smith and Chuck Crostic, while the Tri-City Street Stock runs were won by Phil Argus and Dennis Wernle.

Staci Dowdy moves ahead with the ball. Granite City dropped to 10-5-1 with Monday night's loss to Collinsville.

Lady Kahoks
upend GCHSBy Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

The No. 1 seed in the girls soccer sectional has turned into a bad omen of late for the Granite City Lady Warriors.

Since the seedings were announced for the Granite City Sectional on May 1, the Lady Warriors have lost back-to-back games by the same 1-0 score.

FIRST IT WAS Chatham Glenwood on Saturday. Then Monday night, in a steady rain, it was the Collinsville Lady Kahoks who slipped past Granite City in a Southwestern Conference match at Collinsville High School.

CHRIS forward Heather Jalinsky blasted in a wide-open shot to score the game's only goal at 26:20 of the first half.

"It's a typical goal that we run into here which we felt the left back was pushed," Granite City coach Gene Baker said. "It's just an aggressive play. It's either the official has to call it or the player has to do something about it."

On the play, the Lady Kahoks' Lori Wylie took a deflected pass to the right of Granite City goalie Staci Dowdy and punched it toward the center of the net. Jalinsky wrestled away from a Granite City defender to score into an empty net.

THE LADY WARRIORS had plenty of opportunities to score in the remainder of the half, as well as the second half, but they couldn't find the back of the net. Granite City outshot Collinsville 10-5-1 with Monday night's loss to Collinsville. (See GCHS, Page 4B)

Sectional meet next up for Lady WarriorsBy Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Granite City girls track team went into last week's Southwestern Conference meet looking to fine-tune for this week's Highland Class AA Sectional and hoping to fare well in its final regular-season competition.

But a squad limited by illnesses left the Lady Warriors short-handed last Friday and resulted in a sixth-place finish among SWC teams at Collinsville High School. Granite City produced just 49 points and finished behind meet champion Belleville West (150 pts.), Alton (102), Belleville East (84), East St. Louis (75) and Collinsville (62).

GRANITE CITY was without top sprinter Lesley Penberthy and several other athletes who have been instrumental in this year's success. But with state berths at stake Friday at Highland, the Lady Warriors are hoping to rebound strongly and put the SWC meet behind them.

"Some days are better than others," Granite City coach Gene Briggs said. "We did the best we could on a bad day. We had a number of girls who were ill or unable to run at full capacity. We weren't at full strength."

"The sectional is much more important. The conference serving as a tuneup, we would have liked to have been healthy. We'll just have to use this week to practice and get ourselves ready."

Brandt
The Lady Warriors placed in several events at Collinsville, but had just one first-place performance. Stephanie Brandt won the discus with a throw of 125 feet, 0 inches.

NICHOLE DONE posted second-place efforts in the 1600-meter race and the 3200, finishing the 1600 in 5:37 and the 3200 in 12:24.

She didn't run (personal bests) but she was close to them in both events," Briggs said. "She was very competitive in the mile. She had a real good day."

Other top performances came from Christina Clutta, who was third in the 100 high hurdles with a time of 19.4 seconds; and two relay teams made up of Camanisha Samuels, Christina Short, Becky Bargiel and Holly Ryan. They placed second in the 800 relay (1:55.5) and fourth in the 400 relay (54.5).

(See LADY WARRIORS, Page 3B)

Tourney qualifies grapplers for Northern Plains nationals

The Granite City Wrestling Club came away with four individual champions and two All-State selections in Saturday's Northern Plains regional qualifying tournament at Peoria Notre Dame High School.

Granite City wrestlers Larry Meyers, Gary Oxford, George Kirgan and Dave Thompson all won their weight classes and qualified for next month's Northern Plains national tournament, scheduled to be held June 15-17 in Lincoln, Neb. In addition, Oxford and Kirgan were named to the Illinois Schoolboy state select team.

GRANITE CITY entered a total of five wrestlers in the qualifying tournament and advanced four to the nationals. Meyers won the 90-pound class in the 9-10 age group. Oxford (90 pounds) and Kirgan (135) both won Schoolboy (age 13-14) titles, and Thompson won a Cadet title at 183 pounds. Fifth wrestler, Curtis Strain, competed but did not place.

Thompson qualified for the national tournament for the first time. Meyers, Oxford and Kirgan are repeat qualifiers.

Last week, Granite City had a total of six place winners in the Greco and Freestyle state tournaments at Niles West High School in suburban Chicago. On April 29, Cadet wrestlers Ike Newman and Ben Temple both placed in the Freestyle state tournament. Newman placed fifth at 154 pounds, and Temple was fifth at heavyweight.

ON APRIL 30, four wrestlers placed in the Greco state tournament. Temple was second at heavyweight, and Newman was third at 154. Both qualified for the Cadet Nationals, which will be held in Omaha, Neb., on July 16-15.

Granite City's other place winners were Thompson, who was fifth at 132, and Ryan Worthen, who was fifth at 103.

meet. The Warriors are preparing for Thursday's Southwestern Conference meet at Collinsville.

Brian Lloyd and the Warrior baseball team were scheduled to play at Belleville West on Tuesday. See Thursday's Press-Record for coverage.

Elks tryouts
The Granite City Elks 1985 girls U-10 soccer team will hold open tryouts for girls born after Aug. 1, 1984 at 6 p.m. May 16 at the Belleville Area College campus in Granite City.

All candidates must arrive at least 15 minutes early outfitted in a white shirt and shin guards. Players must also bring a size 4 inflated soccer ball, drinking water and a copy of their birth certificate.

Players currently rostered on a SISL team must obtain written permission from their coach to try out. For more information, call 797-1890.

Coaches needed

Experienced male and female soccer coaches are needed for St. Louis-area select soccer teams. Several positions are available in different age groups for both boys and girls development (U-8 through U-10) through U-19. Candidates should send a mini-resume with soccer experience to: P.O. Box 2285, Florissant, Mo., 63032-2285.

Softball tournaments

Entries are being taken for two ASA Class A and B-C men's slow pitch softball tournaments to be held this month at the Granite City Steel Sports Complex.

Teams are needed for a 15-team Class A double-elimination tournament (five home runs limit) and a 15-team Class B-C double-elimination tournament (two home runs limit). The tournaments will be held May 19-21.

Traveling expenses will be paid to the top four teams. For more information, call Ron Harris at 254-5411, David Peach at 254-3367 or Monte Little at 931-1011.

Park District registration

The Granite City Park District is now taking registration for its Juvenile boys baseball and Juvenile girls softball leagues.

The leagues will start play the first week of June. Registration will be held at the Wilson Park office. The entry fee is $200, and the deadline for registration is Friday, May 12.

For more information, call Ray Hoffman at the Wilson Park office, 877-3059.

Baseball players needed

The Granite City Chiefs men's baseball team needs players for a 27-and-over league. For more information, call Dennis Gurkin at 877-4504 before 8:30 p.m.

Youth baseball camps

Former St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Greg Mathews will conduct three youth baseball camps this summer: June 12-15, Ball with; June 19-22, Affton; and June 26-29, Eureka. All the camps will focus on all aspects of the game. Each camp runs from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Cost is $125 per person, and that includes a tour of Busch Stadium, T-shirt, prizes, and a meal from McDonald's each day. For more information, call (314) 532-0145.

Busch soccer camps

The Busch Soccer Club will conduct its 1995 summer camp series beginning June 12 at St. Louis Soccer Park. The camp directors are Denny Vaninger and David Eric. For more information, call (314) 343-8110.

Teams, players needed

The St. Louis International Youth Baseball Association is seeking baseball teams — and individuals — with players born Aug. 1, 1982, or after. Teams will participate in an international tournament in Amsterdam from July 10-17 against teams from Germany, France, Belgium, Austria and the Netherlands. For more information, call Madlyn Levin at (314) 532-5515.

BAC softball camps

Belleville Area College softball coach Kathy Bernal will hold two camps this summer. The first camp, for fifth-through eighth-graders, will be held from 4-7 p.m., May 30-June 2. The 12th-graders, will be held from 9 a.m.-noon, June 5-9. Both camps will be held at BAC's Belleville campus, 2500 Carlyle Road.

The cost of the first camp is $40, the cost of the second camp is $50. Checks may be made payable to BAC and mailed to: Belleville Area College Softball Office, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, Ill. 62221. Enrollment at each camp is limited to 75 participants. Each camper will need a glove, gym or softball shoes and sweat pants or shorts. For more information, call the BAC athletic department at 235-2700, extension 271.

Grand Slam camps

Grand Slam is conducting a series of weekly baseball and softball camps at its new indoor location at 280 Vance Road in Valley Park.

The camp dates are June 5-8, June 12-15, June 19-22, June 26-29, July 5-7, July 10-13, July 17-20, July 24-27, July 31-Aug. 3, Aug. 7-10 and Aug. 14-17. There will also be eight outdoor camps at various athletic associations in the St. Louis area. The camps run from 9:30 a.m.-2 p.m., Monday-Thursday at a cost of $85 per camper. For family and other discounts will apply.

Camp directors are Ric Lessmann, head coach at Washington University, Vic Cavellero, head softball coach at Grand Slam, Todd Whaley, head coach at Meramec Community College, Bob Hughes, head coach at St. Louis, and Jim Turner Grand Slam academy director. For more information call (314) 861-3313.

ADA golf shootout

The American Diabetes Association and the Falls Golf at Turtle Creek in O'Fallon, Mo. are teaming up for the $1 million swing for a cure hole-in-one contest, June 14.

The qualifying rounds are June 1, noon-9 p.m.; June 2, noon-9 p.m.; June 3, 9 a.m.-9 p.m.; and June 4, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The semi-final round is June 4, 4 p.m.-5 p.m., with the $1 million hole-in-one final round to follow.

Each attempt is $1 and is unlimited in the qualifying rounds. For more information and to receive a coupon for five free balls with the purchase of five balls can call the American Diabetes Association at 314-968-3196.

Pottstath baseball camps

The J.R. Pottstath Baseball Camps will be held this summer at the Highland VFW. The first session is June 12, 13, 15 and 16; the second session is June 19, 20, 22 and 23. The camps run from 8:30 a.m. to noon, but campers may come at 7:30 for extra hitting.

The camps are open to boys ages 8-16; campers are divided into groups by age and ability. Local colleges and high school coaches will be the instructors. There will be awards and prizes, daily popsicle treats and a free camp T-shirt.

The cost is $38 for one week and $68 for two weeks, with a $5 late fee for entries received after April 25. Campers are expected to start preparing for camp two weeks in advance. For more information, call Marcia at 654-2619.

Athletic scholarships

Over 100,000 college athletic scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student-athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be all-state to qualify. Much of this money goes unused.

A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of student-athletes is available for student-athletes.

For information on how to get a college athletic scholarship, send a self-addressed (business-size) stamped envelope to the National Sports Foundation, 611A Willow Drive, P.O. Box 940, Oakhurst, N.J., 07755.

Junior lefthander Justin Bettorf and the Warrior baseball team visit East St. Louis in a Southwestern Conference game Thursday.

•Lady Warriors

While the Lady Warriors came away with a low finish in the standings, Granite City's junior varsity team finished near the top of its division. The team's younger athletes made up a strong JV squad and produced 95 points for a second-place finish behind Belleville West. The Maroons won the JV meet with 105 points.

"WE DID PRETTY well in the JV division," Briggs said. "We came real close to winning it. We tried to spread everything around and give everybody a chance to compete."

The Lady Warriors had most of their success in the field events. Beth Feenstra won the shot put and discus throws and could have placed in both on the varsity level, Briggs said. Feenstra threw 34-6 in the shot put and 97-3 in the discus. Christy Koester also placed in the weight events, finishing third in both.

Coleen Woods cleared 13-9 to win the long jump, while Kristie Ross placed fourth in the event. Ross hurled the 400.

Stephanie Jovi posted wins in the 100 hurdles (19.6) and the 300 hurdles (59.8), and Heather Mell placed second in the 800 and 3200. Jovi's time in the 100 hurdles would have ranked fourth among varsity competition.

"We did real well in the field events," Briggs said. "We got quite a few points."

BRIGGS HOPES TO see the Lady Warriors get back to full strength in time for Friday's sectional, which will begin with the field events at 3:30 p.m. The 17-team field includes Alton, Glenview, Chatham, Clive, Wood, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland, Jacksonville, Jerseyville, Quincy, Springfield, Springfield Lanphier, Springfield Sacred Heart-Griffin, Springfield Southeast, Triad, Taylorville and Wood River.

Athletes will be competing for spots in next week's Class AA state meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. The top two places in each event and other individuals who meet the state qualifying mark in the event will advance to state May 19.

Granite City has two returning state qualifiers, Brandt and Penberthy. Both are defending sectional champions. Briggs looks for both to qualify again, and he hopes they can be joined by several teammates at state this year.

"We're going to give it a try," Briggs said. "The sectional will be very difficult. It's going to be very competitive."

Plastic worm still a dependable bass catcher

Bill Seibel

Many forms of sport have been described as art forms or poetry in motion or something similar. These are done with proper motivation and a true heart — the perfect long jump, the just right putt, the smooth swing or perfect pitch.

Outdoorsmen also have their poetry in motion and art forms — the flawless tar shooter, the perfect canoeist and so forth. Perhaps one most often held up as the artist is the dry fly fisherman, the specialist who presents his bit of feathery fluff (with a hook) on the surface of the water so it drifts perfectly, imitating a just-hatched winged bug of minuscule size in a manner to fool the monarch of the cold water, the wild trout.

However, many of us from this part of the world never get to experience that form of angling, mainly because Missouri has only a few trout fishing waters and most of those hold only put-and-take stocked trout. There are dry fly fishermen who do well, but there are others who do equally as well.

There is another form of angling that, in my opinion, requires an equal amount of knowledge, of skill and of confidence to accomplish successfully. That is angling for largemouth bass with the bogus plastic worm — the venerable plastic worm.

A couple of years ago, I read in a big magazine that professional bass anglers — those men and women who earn their bread competing in competitions to determine who can catch the most and biggest bass — seldom use plastic worms these days because the method is too slow.

Somewhere forgot to tell the pro bass anglers I've visited with recently about this edict. I watched an old and very successful pro, Guido Ribbado, Gravois Mills, Mo., climb from fifth to second place on the second day of last year's BASS Masters Classic using a plastic worm. And the winner, the late Brian Kerchall, so tragically killed in a plane crash just as his career skyrocketed, used a plastic worm as well. But then Kerchall was a Wrangler Angler, one of the five "amateurs" who made the Classic through the Bass Anglers Sportsman Society (B.A.S.S.) Federation ranks — so what could he know?

He could know how to catch fish and nice-sized bass to boot.

The plastic worm can be presented in many, many different ways. It often is said that the only way not to catch fish on it is to leave it in your tackle box. But the most common way to use it is to rig it Texas style.

This means to thread your line through the hole centered in a bullet-shaped weight made of lead, brass or steel so the point is forward. Then tie a hook on the end of your line.

The plastic worm of your choice then is threaded onto the hook in such a way that it is weedless or snagless or whatever you want to call it. It still will hang up on rocks, weeds or logs, but not often. The worm is threaded onto the hook by inserting the hook dead-center into the very end of the worm. Push the point in beyond the barb a bit and then twist the hook so the point comes back out. Slide the worm up the shank to the cover eye of the hook, then turn the hook and bury the point back in the plastic.

The worm should hang perfectly straight or it will twist your line badly.

The Texas rig is casted to a favored target, usually a downed log, brush pile, rock pile or rocky bank and allowed to sink to the bottom. The line is tightened up with the rod tip in nearly horizontal position. The rod tip then is slowly raised to the 12 o'clock position as the worm and sinker bump and sither along the bottom. If the worm rig hangs up, give it a little upward jerk and it usually will pop free.

When this happens and the worm slowly settles back to the bottom, many strikes will occur. You'll soon learn to interpret what you're feeling through your line and rod sticks, rocks, logs, brush and the tap-tap that feels alive and is.

When you get a strike, drop the rod tip to about a 10 o'clock position, tighten the line two or three turns of the reel handles, and set the hook with as fast and hard and upward jerk as you can manage. Make the rod swing and whistle through the air. That will pop the hook point through the plastic and into the bass's jaw — the rest is up to you.

For this type of fishing, I still like the old style straight tail or, at most, a curly-tailed worm. Mann's long-nosed Jelly Worm are excellent. These plastics come in every color of the rainbow, but black, purple, red, pumpkin, blue, blue firetail, grape (purple) and white and motoroil are old standbys. These can be changed by adding a special metalflake to make a new color — like the now favored Junebug which is purple with green metalflake.

As an alternative to dragging the Texas rig along the bottom, try using a Gambler Florida Weight, which has a little plastic extension on the backside of the bullet that has a wire threaded around it. The worm is threaded a little deeper onto the hook to leave a bit of head and this plastic sleeve is buried into the plastic. This makes the weight stay with the worm.

Then pitch or flip the worm to visible targets — boat docks, logs, brush piles and the like. For this kind of work, I like swimming tail worms. None is better than Berkley's Power Worms, but the original Mr. Twister, Lucky Strike's Guido's Ringer and the Culpit Kerchall used to win last year's Classic are hard to beat. These worms have curly plastic tails that take up the back half of the worm's length and give it a swimming action as it falls.

Presentations are made by underhandedly pitching it to the target and allowing the worm to swim as it falls, prompting strikes.

Be a line-watcher as you fish a worm and jerk when your line twitches or moves unusually. And be inventive — plastic worm is an art form. Artists are creative.

village for the game and had five corner kicks to none for Collinsville in the second half. The Lady Warriors dominated much of the contest and held the Lady Kahoks without a shot on goal for the final 40 minutes.

"If we can get this kind of effort from the girls as we get ready for the playoffs, I'll be happy," Baker said.

The Lady Warriors suffered their second straight loss for the first time this season and dropped to 10-5-1. Granite City fell to 5-1-1 in SWC play. Collinsville, the No. 2 seed in the sectional, improved to 8-7-1. Sectional play begins May 23.

Sometimes time doesn't heal all wounds...

Memorial's Wound Care and Limb Preservation Clinic can help.

Memorial's Wound Care and Limb Preservation Clinic specializes in caring for people with chronic, non-healing wounds of the legs — a significant health problem in the United States.

Among the most common problems treated in the Wound Care and Limb Preservation Clinic are:

- Venous Stasis Ulcers — from weakness in the vein walls on the lower leg.
- Diabetic Ulcers — from poor blood flow and nerve damage in the legs and feet caused by diabetes.
- Leg Ulcer — from narrowing of the arteries causing reduced blood flow in legs.

FAMILY

Eighth graders are confirmed

On Sunday, April 9, 11 eighth grade youth were confirmed into the faith at St. John United Church of Christ in Granite City. Confirmation is a seven-month course of study with special classes once a week with Sunday school and worship attendance and participation. The course of study includes reports and tests on the Bible, church history, the church year and the sacraments. There have been several "field trips" to help the youth understand what they were studying, including trips to a Jewish temple for Sabbath services, to a nursing home and to the Community Care Center (Protestant Welfare). The class went on a retreat on March 10-12 and worked on special projects. This year each of the members of the class researched the life and work of one of Jesus' disciples. They made their report orally in both regular worship services on Sunday, April 2.

The Rite of Confirmation is a special service where these young people become full members of the church and responsible for their own faith and spiritual growth. This is a very important time and an important mile marker in their life. It is not the end of the journey, for the journey of faith has only just begun, but time showing passage from childhood toward adulthood and a child's faith toward an adult faith.

Two attend Ataxia Foundation meeting

Charles C. and Irene Williams of Granite City attended the National Ataxia Foundation's 38th annual meeting in Huntsville, Ala., March 10-12. The theme of the 1995 meeting was "All Systems Go. 'Ataxia' has liftoff." An appropriate theme, considering the rapid advance of genetic research in finding the genes or marker genes responsible for seven of the dominantly inherited ataxias in the last two years.

The annual meeting was an opportunity for those personally affected by the hereditary ataxias to hear speakers address such topics as ataxia research, genetics, coping with ataxia and more. Equally important, the meeting was an opportunity for those affected by this rare disorder to meet other families from across the United States, Canada and Germany that face similar problems and challenges. This was the largest meeting ever for persons affected by the ataxias with more than 400 in attendance.

Dr. S. H. Subramony, NAF's research director, started the meeting by giving an update on international ataxia research. Dr. Martha Nance of Minneapolis talked about the psychological effects of ataxia and Dr. Laura Rannum of the University of Minnesota reported on her recent work with the Lincoln family ataxia, having localized the gene to the 11th chromosome several months ago. Many other doctors spoke about other critical research studies and issues relating to ataxia.

The national office of the National Ataxia Foundation is located at 15500 Wayzata Blvd., #750, Wayzata, Minn., 55391; (612) 473-7666.

Career fair today

A Career Fair will be held from 10:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, at the Granite City High School Annex Gymnasium. Included will be representatives from schools, agencies and careers.

Students will attend during their half-hour study hall and will have opportunities to ask representatives questions concerning their different areas.

Local DAR chapter holds meeting

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution met April 22 in Glen Carbon at the home of Sandra Wilkinson with nine members present. The hostess served baked cinnamon rolls and blueberry buckle prior to the opening of the meeting.

Regent Barbara Williams led the group in the opening DAR Ritual and the Pledge of Allegiance. Wilkinson read the president general's message and Audrey Sperry read the national defense report entitled "Hijacking America's History." The March minutes were read by Linda Mizell and approved by the members.

Judith Schatz reported that she had made contact with two persons who had expressed an interest in becoming a DAR member. Mizell discussed the state DAR conference, including problems with the voting procedures this year. The certificate awards were viewed by members. "Stars" representing the acquisition of new members were presented to Schatz and in absence to Marie Reinhart.

Emma Schoen and an assistant yet to be named were asked to serve as the installing officers at the May meeting for the 1995-97 chapter officers. The regent asked for members to sign up for hostesses and program presenters for the new year, which begins in June. She also asked that members be aware that 45-star and 46-star American flags were needed to be used in the January 1996 program. Also needed are both the pre- and post-1969 Illinois flags for the same program. Others in attendance were Margaret Bell, Georgia Engleke and Jane Vanesler.

WINGS OF HOPE

On April 19, 1995, an evil act forever changed the lives of innocent people in Oklahoma City. Particularly distressing is the loss of innocent children. This devastating blast has destroyed families.

It has forever changed all of our lives. WINGS OF HOPE is the effort of local business owners to work to help ease the pain and suffering of those affected by this tragedy. We are asking the warm and caring people of our community to assist our neighbors in Oklahoma City. We have set a goal of $50,000 to send directly to Oklahoma City to aid those who have endured a great deal of loss and sorrow.

By contributing to this effort you can join with your neighbors in OUR community to assist our neighbors in Oklahoma City. Your gift, in any amount, will make a difference. Join us in showing that we care about the suffering of these victims and especially the LITTLE ANGELS we have lost. Proceeds will be sent to VICTIMS & FAMILY RELIEF FUND TO BE USED DIRECTLY IN SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE AFFECTED BY THE BOMBING.

Your Gift, in any amount will help in the healing of these families!

As a THANK YOU for your support you will receive a special WINGS OF HOPE Gift.

Lively Taste

Tired of steamed vegetables with a sprinkle of basil or garlic powder? Then heat them in vegetable broth for a change. Over medium-high heat, bring 1 can (14-1/2 ounces) vegetable broth and 3 cups cut-up fresh or 1 package (about 20 ounces) frozen vegetables to boil. Lower heat. Cook, covered, 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender-crisp. Drain excess liquid to use in other dishes.

Health & Fitness

Medicine Chest

An appropriate percentage of body fat is essential to maintaining good health. Most doctors and hospitals can measure it. For adult males, body fat should be about 20 percent. About 30 percent body fat is considered normal for an adult female.

Fresh Picks

May means more fruit from California. While still in its early stages, the early harvest of peaches, plums and nectarines has tripled over the last nine years. Peaches and nectarines are the most plentiful. To select the best-flavored, look for those with a yellowish background color, rather than green shading. A sprinkling of Red Beaut and Black Beaut plums should hit markets around May 15 and the first large shipments of the popular Santa Rosa plum will start to appear by the end of the month. Speed ripening by putting fruit in a closed paper bag at room temperature a few days.

Big Fat Tip

Were there some big fat resolutions made at the beginning of the year? If dessert poses a dilemma for complying with them, try fresh fruit for dessert, or sorbet, low-fat ice cream or nonfat frozen yogurt instead of regular ice cream. The fruit flavors are easiest for manufacturers to incorporate in creamy frozen desserts.

Future Shop

Why do lower-fat products contain so many ingredients? The trick to making them palatable is to compensate for fat's flavor, mouth feel, texture and density. That often requires a combination, rather than a single ingredient.

Mom's Day

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Whether the kids climb into bed with Mom for a breakfast of boxed cereal, peanut butter and jelly on crackers and bottled juice, or they reach out to hug her by phone, Mother's Day is a special one.

Sometimes it is memories, sometimes it is potted begonias that touch her heart. Always it reaches that special part of her heart ever reserved for her real and "adopted" children.

Sometimes Mom is not supposed to lift a finger, but now and then she delights in fixing for her own family a treat she knows comes from the hearth of her own kitchen.

Does she like chocolate? Are strawberries her passion? Is creamy banana more than a helping of potassium to her? Is cheesecake always her choice?

Then give her—or hint that she try—these desserts which carry on the day's tradition of caring and sharing. They add a big dollop of goodwill in the form of less fat. Even if she is the Schnucks sourdough pretzels follow the tradition of a fat-free snack that goes well with a cold beverage.

Sourdough pretzels leave 'em crunching

Those who love sourdough pretzels really love 'em, according to Suburban Journals testing of the Schnucks brand. The bigger the fan of this thick, oversized, hard variety, the bigger the endorsement for the variety featured at Schnuck Markets.

"These taste just like the name brand. The only thing missing is the mustard and the cream cheese," said one enthusiast.

A 15.25-ounce box of Schnucks no-preservative, fat-free, cholesterol-free sourdough pretzels costs $1.89, while name brands cost more per ounce or a same-size box does not drop often below its $2-plus price.

The pretzels were uniform in size, a few broken for those who want to snack on a smaller amount from the airtight bag-in-a-bow. They were uniformly well-browned.

Several tasters commented on the pretzels' salty exterior.

"I like that they didn't have much salt on them — and what they did have could be easily removed (if you didn't want it)," a taster said.

Another commented, "These are not overly salty, although I didn't get much sourdough taste either." Her overall endorsement was that "these are a good, healthy snack alternative."

Another tester who relies on the supermarket and other outside sources for most of her eating enjoyment echoed the sentiment.

"I liked the sourdough pretzels, especially since they are fat-free and not too salty. That's always a plus," she said.

Although this type of pretzel is not meant for the faint-of-teeth, a group of young adult tasters finished the bagful from the box without blinking.

One of them summed up their appraisal: "I liked the pretzels. They are real crunchy and have a good flavor in the pretzel dough. The flavor reminded me of the soft pretzels you buy at the ballpark."

Recipe

CRUNCHY NACHO CASSEROLE

- 1 pkg. (12 to 16 oz.) ground turkey
- 1 cup frozen kernel corn, thawed
- 1/2 cup salsa
- 1/2 cup reduced-fat sour cream
- 2 cups crushed tortilla chips

- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheese for tacos

Preheat oven to 350°.

In skillet, break up sausage in small pieces. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Stir in corn, salsa and sour cream.

Ladle half the meat mixture, chips and cheese in 1 1/2- or 2-quart casserole. Repeat. Bake, uncovered, in preheated oven 20 minutes.

Preheat oven to 350°. Spray 12-by-9-inch baking pan with nonstick cooking spray.

Combine graham cracker and prepared butter mix. Press firmly on bottom of prepared pan.

In mixer bowl, beat cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in chocolate mixture until smooth. Add egg whites and vanilla. Mix well. Stir in flour.

Pour into prepared pan. Bake in preheated oven 35 to 40 minutes until center is set. Cool. Chill.

Spread whipped topping over cheese layer. Top with cherry pie filling. Cut in squares. Makes 15 servings; 240 calories, 8 g protein, 3 g fat (11 percent calories from fat), 46 g carbohydrate, 10 mg cholesterol and 210 mg sodium each.

Kitchen aroma wafts with herbs from garden

Everything my friend John cooks tastes like a gourmet treat. His secret to excellent cooking was easy to learn. I just followed my nose.

When John cooks, the air is filled with cooking aromas — basil, chervil, chives, garlic, ginger, thyme. These and other fragrant and flavorful herbs intensify the anticipation of taste sensations to come.

Herbs offer exciting versatility. Try adding dill to quick biscuits, sage and rosemary to home-baked bread, sweet basil to a marinara sauce and lemon-thyme to chicken. Excite a dull iceberg lettuce salad with fresh chervil, Greek oregano, chives, dill, fennel, mint and marjoram. Garnish any food with a sprig of rosemary, a few basil leaves or chopped chives.

With a sprinkle, distinct flavors of herbs let fat be decreased without the diner's notice. Salad dressing becomes worry-free at the waistband. Bread stands on its own without butter. Rubbed on meat, herbs eliminate a need for high-calorie marinades.

Already an accomplished herb gardener, John still relies on the advice of Mary Wenger of Sassafras Hill Herbs, Kimmickville. He passes on her tips that he follows:

- Herb gardening takes planning. Most herbs native to Mediterranean regions require sandy soil, good drainage and lots of sun.

• Harvesting differs for each herb, too. For example, chives should be snipped at the base of the leaf and basil blooms should be removed when picking leaves so basil remains sweet and plentiful all summer.

• Not a gardener? Visit a supermarket produce section for a year-round herb harvest. Dry herbs season and flavor as well. Just use half the amount of dry herbs as fresh.

• To remove dirt from fresh herbs, rinse under cool water and air-dry. The more leaves are washed and handled, the more flavor is lost.

Here is a tasty way to use fresh herbs closest at hand.

Micro Raves

Sweeten Mother's Day by promoting kids' cooking

Learning to cook is a wonderful experience for children. Boys and girls alike need to know how to prepare simple foods for themselves. Teaching kids to cook gives them an opportunity to practice following directions, encourages them to spend quality time with their parents and shows them an alternative way to show love and appreciation besides spending money on gifts.

Knowing they can help with meal preparation teaches responsibility and gives them an opportunity to surprise mom with their cooking skills on Mother's Day. Because a microwave oven offers less chance of accidental burns and it cooks so quickly, young cooks can see the finished results quicker than when they cook conventionally.

Beginning cooks must remember to be clean cooks.

Hands always should be washed before handling food and utensils. All young cooks need supervision with their cooking. They learn by doing, so even a very young cook can stir and blend ingredients. Watching the timer on a microwave oven may sound dull to an adult, but it can be a learning experience for a young child.

To help mom on a busy day, a helpful child can team up with an microwave oven to make a quick lunch or snack.

Start by placing a split English muffin half on a microwave paper plate. Top each muffin with 1 slice fresh tomato. Sprinkle each with basil and oregano. Top with slice of mozzarella cheese. Microwave on medium-high power 2 to 3 minutes until cheese melts.

DANDY CANDY

- 12 oz. butterscotch baking chips
- 1 can (14 oz.) condensed milk
- 1 jar (12 oz.) crunchy peanut butter

In glass or ceramic bowl or mixing cup, microwave butterscotch pieces on medium power 2 to 3 minutes until melted. Stir in condensed milk and peanut butter. Microwave on high power 1 to 2 minutes.

Pour candy into buttered 8-inch square pan. Chill until set.

Cut in small squares to serve.

Bake in preheated oven 50 to 55 minutes until center is set. Cool. Chill.

Cauliflower wins in salad

Cathy Schmidt, Affton, is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Cauliflower Siciliano Salad. For it she wins a prize of dinner certificates from Pasta House Co.

Her family name of Catalan puts her in good standing for an attractive, flavorful salad. With the crisp flavor of cauliflower, green olives, onion and celery, it has a dressing of lemon juice, olive oil, fresh parsley and capers. Ingredients can be prepared in advance, so they are ready to mix close to serving time. Her niece in San Francisco gave her "Italian Cooking Class Cookbook," from which it comes.

Recipes in this month's Green Salads Recipe Contest will be accepted through May 31 for consideration as winner each week in June. The recipe can celebrate lower prices for lettuce or feature other green salad ingredients, like broccoli, celery or even avocado.

One recipe per household can be sent to: Green Salad Recipe Contest, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63103. As usual, if there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. Along with taste and eye appeal, it will be used as a basis for selecting winners. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the recipe's source. Include the name of the Journal you receive.

Winners are notified by mail. Duplicate entries will be considered on the basis of earlier entry or best compliance with the rules.

CAULIFLOWER SICILIANO SALAD

- 6 stuffed green olives, sliced
- 1/2 small onion, thinly sliced
- 1 rib celery, chopped
- 1/2 head (3/4 lb.) cauliflower, rinsed, core, cut in 1 inch flowerets
- 2 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh parsley
- 1/2 tsp. capers, drained

Bring large pot of water to boil. Add cauliflowers. When water returns to boil, cook, uncovered, 5 minutes. Immediately drain and rinse under cold running water until completely cool. Pat dry.

In medium bowl, whisk lemon juice, salt and pepper. Add oil in slow steady stream while whisking until oil is thoroughly blended.

Add olives, onion, celery, parsley and capers. Stir to mix well. Pour over cauliflower. Mix gently.

cut in small cubes (about 10 cups)

4 medium bananas, sliced, dipped in lemon juice

In large bowl, combine condensed milk and water. Add pudding mix. Beat until well blended.

Chill 15 minutes. Stir in yogurt. Fold in whipped topping.

Spoon 2 cups pudding mixture into 4-quart round glass serving bowl. Top with one-fourth each cake cubes, bananas and pudding.

Repeat layering three times, ending with pudding mixture. Chill thoroughly.

Garnish as desired.

Gobble up the good times with easy, festive meals

Getting an A on a test, a home run or a new job, landing a part in a play, getting an idea to the boss — in today's fast-paced times, it is important to celebrate life's significant and near-significant moments.

Commemorate special times by preparing simple yet festive meals.

LEMON-GARLIC TURKEY WITH PEPPERS

- 1 1/4 lb. small red potatoes, halved
 - 1/2 lb. Italian sausage
 - 2 tsp. olive or vegetable oil
 - 2 small onions, each cut in 8 wedges
 - 1 large red bell pepper, sliced 3/4 inch thick
 - 1 large yellow or green bell pepper, sliced 3/4 inch thick
 - Salt to taste
 - 1/4 tsp. minced garlic
 - 1 tsp. flour
 - 1 lb. fresh turkey tenderloins, cut in 1 1/2 inch pieces
 - 1 1/4 cups low-sodium chicken broth
 - 3 tsp. lemon juice
 - 3/4 tsp. basil
- In saucepan, cover potatoes with water. Bring to boil over high heat. Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 12 minutes or until almost tender.

In 12-inch skillet or Dutch oven, cook sausages over medium-high heat until well browned on all sides. Remove from heat. Cut each sausage diagonally in 4 to 6 pieces.

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in same skillet or Dutch oven over medium-high heat. Sauté onion, peppers and salt stirring occasionally, until golden brown. Add garlic. Cook and stir 1 minute. Place mixture in bowl.

Combine flour, black pepper and salt to taste on sheet of waxed paper. Toss turkey in flour mixture to coat well. Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in skillet or Dutch oven. Sauté turkey, stirring frequently, until golden on all sides.

Add vegetable mixture, sausages, potatoes, chicken broth, lemon juice and basil. Bring to boil over high heat.

ROAST TURKEY WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

- 1 fresh split turkey breast (about 2 1/2 lb.)
- 1 tsp. olive or vegetable oil
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. thyme
- 1/2 tsp. minced garlic

- 3/4 cup minced shallot or onion
- 10 oz. small mushrooms, cut in half
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 3/4 cup chicken broth
- 2 tsp. flour
- 1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes, drained

Preheat oven to 350°. Rinse turkey breast and pat dry. Place in roasting pan.

In cup, mix oil, salt, 1/4 teaspoon thyme and garlic. Rub over turkey. Roast turkey in preheated oven 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours, brushing occasionally with pan drippings, until pop-up timer indicates done, or meat thermometer reads 175°.

Remove turkey from pan. Let stand 15 minutes.

Place roasting pan on stove over medium-high heat. Add shallots. Cook 2 minutes, stirring frequently.

Add mushrooms and remaining 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1/4 teaspoon thyme. Cook until mushrooms are golden brown. Stir in white wine. Bring to boil over high heat. Boil 30 seconds.

Stir together broth and flour until smooth. Stir in broth mixture and tomatoes, using spoon to break tomatoes in small pieces. Bring to boil. Boil 1 minute.

Wise Ways

Mom sees Kids Charming as clan does easy cooking

By MARY SCHROEPFER

Breakfast in bed on Mother's Day sounds delightful, but dinner on the patio sounds even better if dad and the little ones do the work. Taking advantage of convenience foods simplifies the task.

While many packaged convenience foods are expensive and high in sodium and fat, other products are just the opposite. Foods, like frozen orange juice and brown-and-serve rolls, are so mainstream we no longer think of them as "convenience" foods.

While a bakery-decorated cake can cost 15 times as much as a home version, some convenience foods cost no more than preparing it on your own.

What would be a best buy? Start with plain bread, crackers, rolls, canned soup, instant coffee, nonfat dry milk, spaghetti sauce, macaroni and cheese mix from a box, plain frozen vegetables, canned vegetables, instant mashed potatoes, frozen orange juice and cake mix.

Here are easy ideas for a Mother's Day menu — or any occasion — that does not break the budget:

- Coat chicken with crushed cornflake crumbs — crush in a food processor or blender, or bought precrushed — after dipping in milk, mustard or mayonnaise before baking.

- Jazz up instant potatoes with 2 tablespoons reduced-fat sour cream.

- For glamour, cook 8 ounces noodles according to package directions, then toss with 2 tablespoons margarine and 1/4 cup reduced-fat sour cream. Sprinkle top with 1 tablespoon toasted sesame seeds.

- Add flavorful herbs to canned or plain frozen vegetables: One-fourth teaspoon mint to peas, 1/4 teaspoon curry to corn, or 2 tablespoons chopped onion and 2 tablespoons chopped ham to green beans.

- Toss a simple salad, flavored with herb vinegar — like tarragon — and croutons. Refrigerate unopened "salad in a bag" mixes at all times, because they can spoil at room temperature.

- For quick shortcake, spoon 1/4 cup low-fat vanilla yogurt or instant vanilla pudding on individual slices of sponge cake, pound cake or angel food cake.

Hon. economist Mary Schroepfer is nutrition specialist in University Extension (University of Missouri system) in Franklin County.

CRISPY BAKED CHICKEN

- 1 cup cornflakes, crushed
- 1 tsp. rosemary
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup skim milk
- 2 1/2 lb. cut-up chicken parts, skinned (about 8 pieces)

Preheat oven to 400°. Line baking pan with aluminum foil.

In medium bowl or resealable plastic bag, mix cornflakes, rosemary and pepper.

Dip chicken in milk, then roll in crumb mixture. Place on prepared baking pan. Bake in preheated oven about 45 minutes until done.

Recipe

SKILLET SEAFOOD

- 1 medium tomato, seeded, chopped
- 2 tbsp. sliced ripe olives
- 1 tsp. chopped parsley
- 1 tsp. red wine vinegar
- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) frozen seafood fillets (such as sole, catfish, orange roughly, flounder or ocean perch), thawed

- 1/4 cup Dijon mustard
- 1 can (14 1/2 oz.) chicken broth
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, thawed, drained

In small bowl, combine tomato, olives, parsley and vinegar.

Pat fish dry with paper towels. Using 1 tablespoon mustard, spread thin layer over fish. In large skillet, bring broth, remaining 3 tablespoons mustard and garlic to boil. Add rice. Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Stir in spinach. Arrange fish on top of rice mixture. Simmer, covered, about 8 minutes or until liquid is absorbed and fish flakes easily when tested with fork.

Spoon tomato mixture over top of fish before serving. Makes 4 servings.

ORIENTAL PORK SALAD WITH PEANUT DRESSING

- 8 oz. uncooked whole wheat spaghetti, broken in half
- 8 oz. bean sprouts
- 12 oz. cooked lean pork, cut in julienne strips
- 6 green onions, sliced
- Peanut Dressing
- Fresh spinach leaves
- 4 medium oranges, peeled, segmented

- 1 tbsp. sesame seed, toasted

Cook spaghetti as directed on package. Stir in sprouts last 1 minute cooking time. Drain.

In large bowl, combine spaghetti, bean sprouts, pork and onion. Toss with 1 cup Peanut Dressing.

Cover noodle mixture. Refrigerate about 2 hours or until well chilled.

To serve, arrange spinach leaves on 4 dinner plates. Divide noodle mixture evenly among plates. Surround with oranges. Drizzle with remaining dressing. Sprinkle with sesame seeds.

Peanut Dressing: In blender, combine 3/4 cup hot water, 1/2 cup smooth peanut butter, 3 tablespoons reduced-sodium soy sauce, 2 tablespoons freshly grated ginger root, 2 tablespoons rice vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon coriander, 3 cloves garlic (halved) and 1/4 teaspoon red pepper flakes. Process until smooth.

Recipe

MIDEASTERN SKILLET DINNER

- 1/4 lb. lean ground lamb
- 1/4 lb. lean ground turkey or chicken
- 1 tsp. Italian seasoning, crushed, or 1/2 tsp. crushed oregano and 1/2 tsp. crushed leaf basil
- 2 cups cooked white or garbanzo beans
- 2 medium tomatoes, chopped
- 2 small zucchini, sliced 1/2 inch thick
- Grated peel of 1/2 lemon
- 2 tbsp. tomato paste
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tsp. sugar

1/4 tsp. salt

Thoroughly combine lamb, turkey and Italian seasoning. Shape into twelve (1-inch) meatballs.

In large nonstick skillet sprayed with nonstick cooking spray over medium-high heat, cook meat 10 to 12 minutes until brown on all sides. Pour off fat.

Add beans, tomato, zucchini, lemon peel and juice, tomato paste mixed with water, sugar and salt. Bring to boil. Cook, covered, over low heat 20 to 25 minutes until tender, stirring occasionally.

Makes 4 servings; 300 calories, 24 g protein, 10 g fat, 31 g carbohydrate, 50 mg cholesterol, 254 mg sodium, 1,008 mg potassium and 7 g dietary fiber each.

PARTY PASTA SALAD

- 1 pkg. (12 oz.) uncooked small spiral pasta
 1 can (20 oz.) pineapple chunks in juice
 1 clove garlic, diced
 3/4 cup oil
 3/4 cup white vinegar
 2 tsp. Dijon mustard
 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 Salt and pepper
 3 cups cauliflower florets
 3 cups broccoli florets
 1 red bell pepper, seeded, cut in chunks

1 cup whole almonds, toasted
 Cook pasta according to package directions.
 Drain pineapple, reserving 3 tablespoons juice.
 Combine reserved pineapple juice with garlic, oil, vinegar, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. In large bowl, toss with hot pasta and cauliflower. Marinate overnight in refrigerator.

Just before serving, toss pasta mixture with pineapple, broccoli, bell pepper and almonds.
 Makes 12 to 15 servings.

GREEK PITA PIZZA

6 no-pocket pitas
About 1 lb. deli roast beef, sliced 1/4 inch thick
1 tbsp. Cavendish's Greek seasoning
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) pizza-style
diced tomatoes
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen
chopped spinach, thawed, drained

1 cup chopped onion
1 jar (6 oz.) sliced ripe
green olives, drained
1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) grated feta
cheese

Preheat oven to 425°.

Microwave pitas on high power 10 to 15 seconds on each side to soften. Place on nonstick cookie sheet.

Stack beef slices and cut lengthwise in half; stack and cut lengthwise in half again;

then stack beef and cut crosswise in strips 1/2-inch wide.

Stir Greek seasoning into tomatoes.

Top each pita with, in order, beef, onion, spinach, olives and cheese. Bake in preheated oven 8 to 10 minutes.

Festive meals are made easy

Commemorate special times by preparing simple yet festive meals. Fresh turkey is an ingredient that is versatile, delicious and easy to use in a variety of distinctive recipes.

LEMON-GARLIC
TURKEY
WITH PEPPERS

1 1/4 lb. small red potatoes, halved
1/2 lb. Italian sausage
2 tbsp. olive or vegetable oil
2 small onions, each cut in 8 wedges
1 large red bell pepper,

sliced 3/4 inch thick
1 large yellow or green bell pepper, sliced 3/4 inch thick
Salt to taste
1 1/4 tsp. minced garlic
1 tsp. flour
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1 lb. fresh turkey
tenderloins, cut in 1 1/2 inch pieces
1 1/4 cups low-sodium chicken broth
3 tbsp. lemon juice
3/4 tsp. basil

In saucepan, cover potatoes with water. Bring to boil over high heat. Reduce heat.
Simmer, covered, 12 minutes or until almost tender.
Cook sausages over medium-high heat until well
brown on all sides.

Remove from heat.

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in same skillet or Dutch oven over medium-high heat. Saut-te onion, peppers and salt, stirring occasionally, until golden brown. Add garlic.
Cook and stir 1 minute. Place mixture in bowl.

Combine flour, black pepper and salt to taste on sheet of waxed paper. Toss turkey in flour mixture to coat well.
Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in skillet or Dutch oven. Sauté turkey, stirring frequently, until golden.

Add vegetable mixture,
sausages, potatoes, chicken
broth, lemon juice and basil.
Bring to boil over high heat.
Reduce heat to low. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Today's Food

Compose spicy new salad with old-fashioned flavors

A little lettuce goes on the bottom. Tangy grapefruit sits with it. Spicy chicken takes its bow next. Finally a flavorful homemade salsa comes to top it all.

SOUTHWEST CHICKEN SALAD

- Citrus Salsa
 4 boned, skinned chicken breast halves (about 1 lb.)
 1 tsp. olive oil
 1½ tsp. chili powder
 3 medium grapefruit (white preferably), peeled, segmented
 Rub both sides of chicken with oil, then pat chili powder into both sides of meat.
 Over medium-hot coals, grill chicken about 5 minutes on each side until no longer pink in center, or in large skillet over medium heat, sauté chicken in 1 tablespoon hot olive oil about 5 minutes on each side until no longer pink in center.

 On 4 dinner plates, evenly divide lettuce and grapefruit. Slice each chicken breast diagonally.

Re-assemble chicken atop greens mixture on each plate. Spoon some Citrus Salsa on salads and pass remainder.

CITRUS SALSA

- 1 medium red grapefruit, peeled, segmented, chopped
 1 medium red bell pepper, diced
 1 small orange, peeled, segmented, chopped

- 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple
 2 green onions, thinly sliced
 1 small jalapeno pepper, seeded, finely chopped
 1 tsp. chopped fresh leaf

- cilantro
 1 tsp. cumin
 2 tsp. fresh lime juice
 In medium bowl, combine grapefruit, red pepper, orange, pineapple with its juice, onion, jalapeno, cilantro, cumin and lime juice.

Put Your Hands In Mine

Hand injuries can be painful and may involve the loss of function. Early examination and diagnosis, as well as a complete treatment plan may relieve pain and can restore hand function. Arthritis, degenerative processes, nerve problems and overuse syndromes, as well as fractures and sprains are among the things that can cause pain and discomfort in the upper extremities - hand, wrist, shoulder and elbow. Belleville Orthopedic Surgeons, in cooperation with Memorial Hospital, can help you put a finger on your pain with its HAND/UPPER EXTREMITY SERVICE.

Services include:

Examination by Harvey L. Mirly, M.D., a fellowship-trained orthopedic hand surgeon. Also may include x-rays and physical therapy as well as other ancillary services such as social service and nursing.

Fees:

Fees are charged according to services received. Belleville Orthopedic Surgeons is a Medicare provider and insurance billing will be handled for you by the BOS staff.

Tomatoes bring Mexican color

Tomatoes from the May market don't taste like the ones from the back yard in August. But then, a pineapple doesn't taste the same as it would from a patio in Honolulu either.

In truth, "winter" tomatoes have improved dramatically over hard green-pink ones that sat indifferently in supermarket bins. It does not hurt to put some of these redder, better-tasting ones to use. After all, they have traveled at least a thousand miles to be guests on North American tables.

One spring source of vine-ripe tomatoes is the sunny Mexican state of Sinaloa. Perched along the Pacific coast just south of Mazatlan, the thin strip of land parallels Baja Mexico. Eighty percent of Mexican produce imported into the U.S. comes from this region.

For best flavor, store tomatoes unrefrigerated. If they begin to get too soft, eat them quickly or make them into sauce.

It is easy to include variations on the tomato theme. A round one is fun to slice for a sandwich.

Fleshy roma tomatoes were designed originally for canning, so they hold up well when grilled and stay firm in sauces and soups.

Tomato Sauce barely heats the tomato until it is charred — not soft — on all sides. This encourages the tomato flavor to blend its intensity with other salsa ingredients. Cilantro can be blended before chilling or just before serving.

ROASTED TOMATO SALSA

4 to 6 tomatoes (about 2 lb.)
2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 tsp. chili powder
1 tsp. oregano
½ tsp. salt
Pinch cayenne pepper
1 tbsp. olive oil
1 can (16 oz.) corn, drained
½ red onion, thinly sliced
¼ cup chopped fresh cilantro
1 jalapeno pepper, finely diced
1 tbsp. red wine vinegar

Roast tomatoes on barbecue grill or under broiler, turning often, until slightly charred on all sides.

Let cool. Peel and chop. Mash together garlic, chili powder, oregano, salt and cayenne.

Stir in oil to make paste. In large bowl, mix tomatoes and spice mixture. Stir in corn, onion, cilantro, jalapeno and vinegar.

Refrigerate, covered, 2 to 4 hours before serving. Makes 5 cups.

FRUIT 'N' CHEESE DIPPER

Mix a little honey and a touch of cinnamon with plain yogurt. Use for dipping short skewers of fruit and cheese chunks. Brush cut fruit with lemon juice to prevent it from browning.

FOOD

SEAFOOD LOVER'S CHOWDER

- 2½ cups cubed, peeled potato
 2 cups frozen whole kernel corn
 1 cup frozen sliced carrot
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 2½ cups low-sodium chicken broth
 2½ cups frozen broccoli cuts
 3 tbsp. flour
 ¼ tsp. salt
 ¼ tsp. pepper
 2 cups skim milk
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen cooked shrimp, or 1 pkg. (8 oz.) frozen surimi (imitation crab) seafood
 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded, reduced-fat sharp cheddar cheese

In large heavy pan, combine potato, 1 cup corn, carrot, garlic and chicken broth. Bring to boil. Reduce heat. Simmer, stirring frequently, 20 minutes or until potato is tender. In food processor, process mixture until smooth, then return it to pan. Add remaining 1 cup corn and broccoli. Cook, covered, 10 minutes. In small bowl, combine flour, salt and pepper. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until smooth. Stir into chowder. Add shrimp. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, 10 minutes or until thickened.

Remove from heat. Stir in cheese until it melts. Makes 9 cups.

Sometimes it's easy to learn.

But if you've suffered a stroke or injury, learning even everyday things can be difficult. Eden Care Center can help. We provide rehabilitation with your goal in mind: going home.

In Eden Care Center's Rehab Program, patients receive treatment with on-staff therapy professionals. Our individualized "Care Plan Team" assesses not only physical progress, but helps patients work out the emotional trauma that often comes with a temporary loss of independence.

Beyond therapy, Eden Care Center offers a highly dedicated staff to provide 24-hour professional care. In fact, we have 40% more nurses than the state requires. That's part of the reason we've received a 99.1% quality assurance rating.

We offer comfortable private and semi-private accommodations in a pleasant residential neighborhood, 5 minutes north of Anderson Hospital with easy access to Hwy. 159 near I-270. And, because we're church affiliated, you know we care.

We became America's strongest bank by keeping our focus where it belongs.

For over 100 years, our focus on the customer has never wavered, nor has our commitment to the time-honored principles of sound banking upon which we were founded. This focus allows us to provide substantive differences in the way we serve you.

In 1934, for example, we created our own mortgage company. So today, when you finance a home at UMB, you have the comfort of knowing your mortgage will be serviced here for its entire term.

For our investment customers, we established the UMB Trust Company of New York to handle stock and bond trades directly and expeditiously. Our Trust Department is now the largest in the state of Missouri, with over $187 billion in total trust assets. We were also the first bank in the country to establish its own family of no-load mutual funds.

For our commercial customers, we created UNITE, a sophisticated on-line banking service that provides 24-hour access to account information.

In every product and service we offer, the focus is clearly fixed on you. It always has been, and it always will be. That is our promise.

It is also why America's Strongest Bank should be your bank.

Buying a used car shouldn't make you feel that way.

We've always thought the used car business could use a bit of a tune-up. So Saturn retailers are now selling Certified Used cars. Inspected and warranted used Saturns, sold with the same informative, no-pressure attitude as our new ones. Along with other used cars that go through the same kind of inspection as every Certified Saturn. Think of it as a used car experience that'll make you feel brand-new.

YOUR SOURCE FOR PROFESSIONAL CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Demand is booming for data processors

Computers have become mainstream, and the flood of computer technology has left employment opportunities in its wake. One of the fastest growing and most in-demand professions is data processing. Simply defined, data processing is any job that involves working with a computer.

Bob Howard, principal of Alliance Systems and Programming, Inc., 1755 Larkin Williams, says this demand is unlikely to slow down soon. "The growth potential in this field is tremendous," he said.

Howard's company specializes in computer projects that work with mainframes and mid-range computer systems, networks and linking personal computers (PCs) to mainframes. He says people seeking a career in data processing would be wise to investigate opportunities in those areas.

"The larger mainframe and mid-range computer systems have been in use for years," he said. "But the proliferation of PCs is creating a whole new area of work. People want to learn to be able to interface with, and use, the data stored on these larger systems from their PCs. That is what's driving a lot of the demand."

Because the types and variety of data processing jobs change as rapidly as the computer technology, Howard says that people wanting to take advantage of the demand for data processing professionals need to have a "broad range of skills."

A few of those skills include knowing different computer programming languages such as C, RPG and UNIX. Familiarity with different network packages is also helpful. Just as important as such specific skills is the ability to refer to as a real aptitude and interest in computer systems and programming. "I like to see people who have an interest in learning about new technology. People who like to learn programming languages," he said. "I've been especially interested in finding people who know or want to learn about new technology in PC networks and mid-range systems. These are real growth areas."

Howard pointed out that although many of the data processing requirements are new, career opportunities exist for people familiar with the older technology. "We do hire a lot of young people right out of school," he said, "but we hire just as many or more older people who are familiar with the older technology."

The reason he says is that although young workers know quite a bit about the new technology, they have virtually nothing about the larger mainframe systems that the PCs must be connected to.

"The result is a job market with room for everybody," says Howard. "In the last couple of years I've seen a lot of older persons with mainframe experience who were downsized by their company. They've all picked up the skills very easily. The backgrounds are very common so they've adapted readily. Part of the reason for our successful operation is the combination of both old and new talent."
